ABSTRACT

This annotated bibliography lists print, non-print, and organizational resources for use by directors and teachers of English-as-a-Second-Language (ESL) programs. Citations are presented in three sections: (1) General Purpose ESL; (2) English for Specific Purposes; and (3) Teacher Resources. The first section lists basic texts and integrated skills texts, plus texts on listening, conversation and oral communication, ESL literacy, reading, writing, grammar, pronunciation, and vocabulary. Materials in the second section concern academic ESL, employment-related ESL, and civics. The third section, on teacher resources, covers theory and practice, classroom activities, teaching aids, journals, and professional organizations. Materials falling into two or more categories are cross-referenced. A title index, a list of publisher addresses, a form for recommending materials for inclusion in the list, and a publication order form are included. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Many people assisted in the preparation of the materials list. In particular we would like to thank the following people:

Carrie Dobbs, Assistant Professor at William Rainey Harper College, selected and reviewed the texts in the Academic ESL materials section.

Judith Diamond, Instructional Resource Consultant from the Adult Learning Resource Center, selected and reviewed the instructional videos included in the Materials List.

Mónica Mazur, Administrative Assistant, typed numerous versions of the Materials List without ever losing her patience.

Nelly Arboleda, Secretary, assisted Mónica with the typing.

INTRODUCTION

This annotated bibliography of adult English as a Second Language (ESL) instructional resources is intended for use as a selection guide for directors and teachers. A number of criteria was used by the reviewers to evaluate and choose the materials. Among them were:

- appropriateness of content and methodology
- method of organization
- adult-oriented format and high-interest topics
- variety of exercises and activities
- clarity and appeal of graphics
- freshness of ideas/approaches
- attractiveness of design
- recommendations by teachers

The instructional resources are categorized according to their main focus (e.g., grammar, listening, conversation). Materials which fall into two or more categories are cross-referenced.

All of the titles mentioned were either purchased from or donated by the publishers listed in the appendix. Please note that the prices stated are subject to change.

Updates will be provided to keep this publication as current as possible.

BASIC TEXTS/INTEGRATED SKILLS TEXTS

ETCETERA: A Competency-Based ESL Program for Adult Education Students. Levels 1-6
Elaine Kirn. Random House, 1988, 1989.

Beginning Literate through Advanced

Consists of 17 self-contained texts which may be used independently or together. The beginning level has two basic texts which emphasize life skills. The next five instructional levels focus on reading, writing, grammar, listening, and speaking skills. The series incorporates hundreds of life-coping competencies in such topic areas as shopping, employment, and immigration. Current, effective teaching methodologies are reflected in the series.

EXPRESSWAYS: English for Communication. Levels Pre-beginning, 1, 2, 3
Steven J. Molinsky and Bill Bliss. Prentice Hall Regents, 1986, 1987, 1988.

Beginning Literate through Advanced

Conversation practice integrates functional language and grammar in a topical approach. Illustrations to enhance comprehension appear throughout. Four instructional levels are available in a full-text or split-text format.

The pre-beginning level text, Foundations, covers the content of Level I in a simplified way. An additional text for pre-beginners, Access, covers reading readiness skills and essential life skills communication.

FAST TRACK: English for Adult Learners. Levels 1, 2, 3

Suzanne M. Griffen, et al. Newbury House, 1990.

Beginning Literate through Intermediate

This three-level competency-based series combines a grammatical and functional approach. Reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills are integrated. The series uses a story-line about a family and its first years in the United States. Vocabulary, pronunciation, and American culture are presented through dialogues. Pair practice is stressed.

Student Books (6)	$10.50 ea.
Teacher Guides (3)	$11.50 ea.

INTERCHANGE: English for International Communication. Levels 1, 2, 3

Jack Richards, et al. Cambridge University Press, 1990.

Beginning Literate through Intermediate

Each student book has 15 units and five additional review units. The emphasis is on using English for everyday situations. The multiskills approach links grammar with functional language and topics. Color photographs and drawings make the text visually stimulating. Pair and small group activities encourage communication.

ON YOUR WAY: Building Basic Skills in English. Levels 1, 2, 3
Larry Anger, et al. Longman, 1988.

Beginning Literate through Intermediate

This three-level series integrates grammar and life skills. Cultural information and natural language are emphasized. Illustrations contextualize meaning. The texts are correlated with MELT and CASAS.

Realistic reading and writing practice is provided in excellent supplementary workbooks, Building Life Skills (3 levels).

A beginning listening text, Preparing the Way, is available for students with no previous exposure to English.

PRACTICAL ENGLISH: Books 1, 2, 3 (Second Edition)
Tim Harris. Harcourt Brace Jovanovich International, 1986, 1987, 1988.

High Beginning through Advanced

Grammatical structures are the focus of this series. Book 1 emphasizes oral communication and the simple verb tenses. Books 2 and 3 emphasize such structures as perfect tenses, modals, infinitives, and conditionals. Topics are addressed through situations encountered by characters who appear in all three books. The series is most appropriate for students in intensive ESL programs. Each book is also available in a split-text edition. Three student workbooks, Writing Practical English, Books 1, 2, 3, are available for additional practice.

BASIC TEXTS/INTEGRATED SKILLS TEXTS

REAL LIFE ENGLISH: A Competency-Based ESL Program for Adults. Books 1-4

Julia Jolly and Lynne Robinson. Steck Vaughn, 1988.

Beginning Nonliterate through Intermediate

This four-level competency-based series is correlated to both MELT and CASAS. The series lends itself to use in multilevel classes because the 10 units of each book cover the same topics at different levels of difficulty. Conversation, grammar, writing, and listening skills are integrated throughout. The texts are liberally illustrated.

A 60-page pre-literacy workbook is available for nonliterate students.

SIDE BY SIDE (Second Edition)

Steven J. Molinsky and Bill Bliss. Prentice Hall Regents, 1989.

Beginning Literate through Intermediate

This is the new color edition of the original Side by Side. This edition integrates listening, speaking, reading, grammar, and pronunciation. (Carolyn Graham has written the pronunciation chants.) Grammar practice is provided through guided interaction activities. The original and new editions of Side by Side are available in full-text or split-text editions. An additional text for pre-beginners, Access, covers reading readiness skills and essential life skills communication.

ESL LITERACY

A NEW START: A Functional Course in Basic Spoken English and Survival Literacy

Linda Mrowicki and Peter Furnborough. Dormac, 1982.

Beginning Nonliterate through Beginning Literate

A beginning course in functional survival English for nonliterate, semi-literate, and literate adults. The student book focuses on life skills such as making a doctor's appointment, reporting an emergency on the telephone, or reading medicine labels. Two literacy workbooks provide supplemental literacy development for nonliterate and semi-literate learners and are especially useful in multilevel classes. A thorough step-by-step teacher guide and excellent cassettes complement the series.

AMERICANA: A Basic Reader

See Reading Section

AMNESTY: A Real Life Approach, Books 1 and 2

Steck-Vaughn, 1990.

Beginning Nonliterate through Intermediate

Book 1 conveys simple civics content through pictures and with minimal print. Civics content includes U.S. symbols, history, holidays, and government. Appropriate for beginning students (nonliterate, semiliterate, and literate). Book 2 covers the same civics content as Book 1, but in more depth. Appropriate for high-beginning through intermediate students.

Student Books (2)	76 pp.	$5.28 ea.
Teacher Guides (2)	76 pp.	$5.95 ea.

BRIDGE TO PERMANENT RESIDENCE: The Basic Course

Carolyn Collins, et al. Hacienda La Puente Adult Education, 1988.

All Levels

An excellent resource for all levels, these materials are especially useful for nonliterate students or bilingual instruction because of the limited amount of print. Covers U.S. history, government, and citizenship in detail. The visual aids are excellent: large posters, flashcards, and magnet board are useful for a variety of language development activities such as Total Physical Response (TPR) and Language Experience Approach (LEA). The extensive teacher guide provides step-by-step guidance.

Student Booklets (10 per set)		$50.00 (10 sets)
Teacher Guide	477 pp.	$20.00
Visuals: posters (55), flashcards (321), poster support with magnets		$75.00

ESL-CIVICS

CONTENT AREA ESL: Social Studies

Dennis Terdy. Linmore Publishing, 1986.

Intermediate through Advanced

Covers U.S. history, sociology, geography, and government. Reading, grammar, and vocabulary skill development are emphasized. Although more suited for high intermediate and advanced students, the graphical literacy components are applicable or adaptable for beginning students.

Student Book	169 pp.	$9.95

ENGLISH THROUGH CITIZENSHIP: Literacy Level, Beginning Level, and Intermediate Levels A and B

Elaine Kirn. Delta Systems, 1989.

Beginning Nonliterate through Intermediate

The literacy level conveys simple civics concepts (symbols, holidays, geography, famous Americans) through pictures. Some reading and writing is included. The beginning and intermediate levels are designed for literate learners and expand on the literacy-level content to include history/historical figures and federal, state, and local government. Pre/post tests are available for all levels.

Student Books (4)	$3.95 - $6.95 ea.
Teacher Guides (3)	$7.95 ea.
Tests (Blackline Masters-4 sets)	$9.95 ea. set
Board Game	$34.95

HANDBOOK FOR CITIZENSHIP (Second Edition)

Margaret Seely. Alemany Press, 1989.

Intermediate through Advanced

Consists of short readings followed by vocabulary exercises and comprehension questions. Despite the lack of illustrations, the content is conveyed in a clear, concise, and comprehensive manner. An excellent resource for intermediate and advanced students, as well as teachers. The cassette tape includes the most commonly asked citizenship exam questions.

Student Book	104 pp.	$6.95
Teacher Guide	8 pp.
Cassette (1)		$12.95

HERE TO STAY IN THE U.S.A.: ESL/US Studies for Beginners

Timothy Maciel and John Duffy. Alemany Press, 1990.

Beginning Literate through High Beginning

Eleven well-illustrated units focus on basic life skills such as health, employment, and consumer issues. Language development activities include listening activities, Total Physical Response (TPR) sequences, and everyday reading tasks. Each unit concludes with a civics lesson.

Student Book	133 pp.	$5.95
Teacher Guide	6 pp.

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES: CONVERSATION

ACTION ENGLISH PICTURES: Activities for Total Physical Response
Maxine Frauman-Prickel. Alemany Press, 1985.

High Beginning through Intermediate

Contains sixty-six reproducible picture sequences for Total Physical Response (TPR) activities. Topics include health and safety, school, and the weather. A general introduction provides suggestions for using the materials to teach TPR lessons.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 120 pp. $19.95

ADVANCED COMMUNICATION GAMES: A Collection of Games and Activities for Intermediate and Advanced Students of English
Jill Hadfield. Thomas Nelson and Sons Ltd., 1987.

Intermediate through Advanced

An excellent, creative collection of 40 reproducible large group, small group, and pair activities to foster oral communication skills. Each game practices a language function (such as discussing advantages and disadvantages) and specific grammar patterns. Although the book teaches British English, the activities are readily adaptable for American ESL students. (See also Elementary Communication Games.)

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts $32.50

ALL SIDES OF THE ISSUE: Activities for Cooperative Jigsaw Groups
Elizabeth Coelho, et al. Alemany Press, 1989.

Intermediate through Advanced

This resource contains carefully-structured small group cooperative jigsaw activities on such topics as the law, immigration, and pollution. The activities promote language development and critical thinking skills. Excellent instructions to the teacher provide an introduction to cooperative learning and the jigsaw method of classroom interaction.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 154 pp. $19.95

ELEMENTARY COMMUNICATION GAMES: A Collection of Games and Activities for Elementary Students of English
Jill Hadfield. Thomas Nelson and Sons Ltd., 1984.

High Beginning through Intermediate

An excellent, creative collection of 40 reproducible large group, small group, and pair activities to foster oral communication skills. Each game practices a language function (such as asking for and giving personal information) and specific grammar patterns. Although the book teaches British English, the activities are readily adaptable for American ESL students. (Note: "Elementary" here means "Beginning"--not K through 8.) See also Advanced Communication Games.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts $28.95

EXPERIENTIAL LANGUAGE TEACHING TECHNIQUES: Out-of-Class Language Acquisition and Cultural Awareness Activities (Second Edition)
Michael Jerald and Raymond C. Clark. Pro Lingua, 1988.

High Beginning through Advanced

Contains 30 carefully structured out-of-class activities designed to develop students' communication skills and cultural awareness. Each technique contains set-by-step instructions for preparing the class to do the activity, conducting the field work, and following-up. Full of great ideas for getting students to use English in the "real world" and to interact with native speakers.

Teacher Resource $10.95

LIVE ACTION ENGLISH: A Total Physical Response Student/Teacher Text (Tenth Edition)
Elizabeth Romijn and Contee Seely. Alemany Press, 1985.

High Beginning through Intermediate

Based on the Total Physical Response (TPR) approach to teaching language, each of the 69 lessons focuses on a series of commands. The lessons provide the stimulus for listening, speaking, reading, and writing activities. Teachers need to provide a limited amount of realia (such as gum, a pencil sharpener, or a ball). Life skills vocabulary and verbs are emphasized.

Cassettes (2)		$21.00
Teacher Resource	70 pp.	$6.95

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES: CONVERSATION

LOOK AGAIN PICTURES for Language Development and Lifeskills
Judy Winn-Bell Olsen. Alemany Press, 1984.

All Levels

Consists of 22 reproducible picture pairs that contain eight differences between the top and bottom illustrations. In searching for the differences, students practice vocabulary, conversation, and social interaction. Covers life skill topics such as transportation, shopping, and housing. Appropriate for all levels, and especially useful in multilevel groups. Some reading and writing practice is included.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 112 pp. $19.95

LOOK WHO'S TALKING! Activities for Group Interaction (Second Edition)
Mary Ann Christison and Sharron Bassano. Alemany Press, 1987.

All Levels

There is something for everyone in this collection of 78 group interaction activities. Activities are included for the whole class, small groups, large groups, and pairs. The activities focus on both personal and non-personal content and are designed for a wide range of ability levels.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 118 pp. $19.95

STEPPING OUT: A Teacher's Book of Real-Life Situations
Christine Bunn and Sharon Seymour. Collier MacMillan, 1989.

High Beginning through Intermediate

This activity resource contains information gaps and scanning activities to develop such life skills as reading price tags, maps, signs, schedules, and calendars. The focus is on teaching the language skills students need to "step out" into the real world of English. Each of the 24 lessons has detailed teacher instructions as well as reproducible transparencies, worksheets, and wall charts.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 156 pp. $20.95

TALK-A-TIVITIES: Problem Solving and Puzzles for Pairs
Richard Yorkey. Addison-Wesley, 1985.

High Beginning through Advanced

A resource of creative, cooperative pair activities designed to get students talking in English. Information gaps, paired crossword puzzles, and strip stories are among the activities. Teacher instructions and reproducible blackline masters are included for each activity.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 122 pp. $27.50

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES: LITERACY

CUING IN: Activities on Blackline Masters for Beginning Writers of English
Claudia J. Rucinski. Scott, Foresman and Company, 1990.

Beginning Nonliterate

Reproducible blackline masters provide nonliterate students with practice in visual discrimination, the alphabet, personal information, numbers, and dates. Detailed teacher instructions accompany each handout. The clear, attractive handouts aid adult learners in attaining literacy in English. Appropriate for whole group settings, multilevel classes, or one-on-one tutoring.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts $14.95

FIRST CLASS READER: An Integrated Skills Approach to Literacy
Sharron Bassano and John Duffy. Alemany Press, 1990.

Beginning Nonliterate

Thirty 4-page lessons use an integrated skills approach to teach reading and writing to students with limited literacy skills. Each lesson gives students the opportunity to hear, read, speak, and finally write in English. The reproducible handouts allow students to write on, cut up, and take home pages as they are completed.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 125 pp. $19.95

PRE-READING RESOURCE BOOK: Reproducible Masters for Visual Discrimination Worksheets
Linda Mrowicki. Linmore, 1989.

Beginning Nonliterate

Consists of reproducible classroom worksheets in a three-ring notebook. Worksheets develop visual discrimination skills in nonliterate or semiliterate students. Prereading activities include matching, tracing, copying, and writing of numbers, block letters, and upper and lower case letters.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts $10.95

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES: WRITING

WRITING WARM-UPS: 70 Activities for Prewriting
Abigail Tom and Heather McKay. Alemany Press, 1989.

Intermediate through Advanced

Contains 70 varied and creative supplemental prewriting activities adaptable for different levels. Teacher notes are provided for each activity. Covers such topics as clarification, sequence, cause and effect, and point of view through interactive pair, small group, and whole class activities.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts 126 pp. $17.95

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES: GRAMMAR

GRAMMAR GAMES: Cognitive, Affective, and Drama Activities for EFL Students
Mario Rinvolucri. Cambridge University Press, 1987.

High Beginning through Advanced

Contains instructions for over 50 games which practice a particular grammar structure or group of structures. Competitive games, sentence-making games, and grammar awareness activities are included. Some adaptation of British vocabulary may be necessary.

Teacher Resource $9.95

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES: EMPLOYMENT-RELATED

SHIFTING GEARS 1 & 2: Hands-On Activities for Learning Workplace Skills and ESL
The Experiment in International Living. Pro Lingua, 1983, 1984.

High Beginning through Advanced

This two-volume curriculum contains detailed instructions on how to conduct 48 lessons to teach workplace skills and behavior. Through hands-on tasks, students learn general skills such as classification and sorting, following verbal instructions, and performing simple computations and measurements. The lessons increase in complexity and precision. Some of the activities require rather elaborate materials such as hand tools, wires, and batteries. A valuable resource for VESL and workplace ESL teachers.

Teacher Resource 328 - 332 pp. $19.95 ea.

THE UNCLE SAM ACTIVITY BOOK: Language Development Handouts to Teach U.S. History and Government

Carolyn Bohlman and Catherine Porter. Scott, Foresman and Company, 1990.

Beginning Nonliterate through Intermediate

Reproducible classroom-ready activity handouts are designed for literacy, beginning, intermediate, and multilevel classes. Songs, skits, picture bingo, and listening tasks are among the 50 high-interest, interactive activities included. The accompanying tape contains patriotic songs, listening activities, and the 100 standardized INS questions and answers for citizenship test practice.

BASIC VOCABULARY BUILDER and PRACTICAL VOCABULARY BUILDER
Dorothy Gabel Liebowitz. National Textbook Company, 1988.

Each of these books contains 32 reproducible pages of pictures grouped by subject. Each page contains 16 illustrations in such categories as clothing, parts of the body, telling time, and household items. Because no print is used, these pages are extremely flexible. Teacher notes for each page provide ideas on grammar patterns and classroom activities. The books are also available in duplicating spirit masters.

Teacher Resource with Reproducible Classroom Handouts (2)	$9.95 ea.

DOUBLE ACTION PICTURE CARDS
Jane Yedlin. Addison-Wesley, 1981.

These large classroom visuals depict a variety of characters engaged in real-life situations. The materials can be used with students of all levels to develop vocabulary, speaking, listening, and writing skills. The teacher guide includes ideas for classroom presentation and activities.

Double Action English: Multi-Level Activities (1985) is a student book which reinforces structures and functions. It can be used alone or to supplement Double Action Picture Cards. Each picture in the book is accompanied by activities for three different levels (low-beginning, beginning, and intermediate), making this book practical for multilevel classes.
